President's Report:

Apologies for the early May newsletter as we have had the close-off prior to Anzac Day this year. Congratulation to member and past chairman of the Warwick Community Development Anzac Memorial Committee Johnno Felton, on the opening of the Warwick Memorial Wall and Dias on the 14th April. Johnno thanked all those who donated money towards the building of the memorial, it was attended by approximately one hundred people.

The opening of the Warwick Dungaree memorial was also a credit to Deputy Mayor Jo McNally and the SDRC for pursuing the project and getting the various grants to see the project through. I am sure more of our members would have been at both services, had it not been for the short notice given about the openings.

We have our 'Wood Raffle' coming up at the end of this month, at the bottom of the escalators 'old Rose City entrance' will be held on both Friday the 31st May and Saturday the 1st June. I would like to thank Mr. Dave Egan for the load of wood generously donated to the association to raise funds. Ray Wingett will be the coordinator of the event, his time and effort to the association is tremendous.

In this edition we have placed the renewal notice for the 2019-2020 financial year, hoping that all renew their subscriptions to keep our association reinvigorated, many of our members would be lost if we did not have our Friday mornings get-together.

On Friday the 24th May we are donating all our morning tea money and donations to 'Australia's Biggest Morning Tea' for cancer research. Cancer has touched a lot of us recently and they still do not have a cause for this deadly disease. Along with many other associations and organisations, our little effort goes a long way to helping find a cure as it attacks more and more Australians each year.

We had eighteen members attend the Warwick RSL Memorial Club for our Dine In/Out last month, this month we have made reservations at the Horse & Jockey Hotel Motel in Silks Restaurant, (were the steaks are outstanding) on Wednesday the 8th May, commencing at 6.00pm.

Comings up on Friday the 28th June we have called a Special General Meeting commencing at 10.00am to examine the Constitutional Sub Committees of four recommendations to 'add/subtract' or 'alter' the present SDESA Qld Inc Constitution. The sub committee was formed on the 19th January 2018 and we await the typed results from the appointed proof reader.

Whatever the consequences deduce, we will then have the items discussed and voted on and once passed at the Annual General Meeting, to be held on Friday the 2nd August 2019 and if found to be in the positive from financial members present, it will then be forwarded to the Office of Fair Trading in Brisbane on the approved forms and fees paid for their interpretation. Once this is finalized, we can then institute the constitution to all members.

For our Dine In/Out for July this year, we are planning another 'Independence Dinner' at the Centre comparable to last year. We hope to make this an annual event each July. We are purchasing (through a grant) a bigger refrigerator for these functions as our old one is just too small and hope to have our caterers back from last year. All members stated what a great event is was in a safe environment, clothing will be casual (winter wear) and the air conditioners will be warmed up. Keep an eye out for later communications on the notice board and newsletter.

*Your Mate
Ken.*

You 'must' register with DVA to get Veteran Lapel Pin

The Australian Defence Veterans' Covenant encourages all Australians to recognise and acknowledge the unique nature of military service and support veterans and their families.

The Veteran Recognition Package is designed to acknowledge the service of all veterans, including reservists.

The Veteran Lapel Pin and Reservist Lapel Pin provide a way for the public to recognise and connect with veterans and acknowledge their service to the nation. The pins will help identify veterans when they aren't wearing their uniform or medals.

The introduction of two pins is to give due recognition to both our veterans and reservists. The introduction of the Reservist lapel pin is to acknowledge the valuable work that reservists do in serving their country including their support to disaster relief, humanitarian efforts and border protection.

If you are eligible for both pins — you have had full-time service and you have been a reservist — you will receive one pin, a Veteran pin.

Under the Veteran Recognition program an eligible veteran is someone who has completed at least one day of continuous full-time service.

Veterans who are not yet clients of DVA can apply for the new Veteran Card through the online portal MyService.

MyService makes it easier for Veterans to access DVA services online. It has streamlined the claims process and is easy to use and access.

When a Veteran signs up to the MyService portal, all data collected is in line with the Privacy Act 1988 and the Australian Privacy Principles.

Laughing Delilah

Laughter Is The Best Medicine

A lady about 8 months pregnant got on a bus. She noticed the man opposite her was smiling at her. She immediately moved to another seat. This time the smile turned into a grin, so she moved again.

He seemed more amused. When on the fourth move, the man burst out laughing, she complained to the driver and he had the man arrested.

The case came up in court. The Judge asked the man (about 20 years old) what he had to say for himself. The man replied... "Well your Honor, it was like this: When the lady got on the bus, I couldn't help but notice her condition. She sat under a sweets' sign that said, "The Double Mint Twins are Coming" and I grinned.

Then she moved and sat under a sign that said, "Logan's Liniment will reduce the swelling", and I had to smile.

Then she placed herself under a deodorant sign that said, "William's Big Stick Did the Trick", and I could hardly contain myself.

BUT, your Honor, when she moved for the fourth time and sat under the sign that said, "Goodyear Rubber could have prevented this Accident"

I just lost it....."

Warwick Dungaree Memorial

The opening of a new Dungaree memorial at Leslie Park, on Friday the 12th April 2019 was a project driven by Deputy Mayor Jo McNally and paid for with a grant from the Queensland Government. The March of the Dungarees started in front of the Warwick Town Hall at 10.30am on 16th November 1915. It passed through Toowoomba, Laidley and Ipswich before it arrived in Brisbane on the 30th November. It passed through Toowoomba, Laidley and Ipswich before it arrived in Brisbane on November 30, gathering 128 recruits along the way. For years to come, every Anzac and Remembrance Day service will involve veterans passing through a memorial to the Dungarees on their way to and from the Warwick cenotaph. It is a fitting way to remember 28 brave Southern Downs men who, upon hearing about the massive loss of life at Gallipoli, started Queensland's sole recruitment march during World War I.

Warwick ANZAC Memorial Wall and Dias

About 100 people attended Leslie Park on Sunday the 14th April 2019 for the dedication and opening of the new Warwick ANZAC Memorial Wall and Dias just south of the cenotaph in Warwick. The work was a culmination of a major fundraising effort ($94,000.00) by the Warwick Community Development Anzac Memorial Committee chaired, by member Johnno Felton. All levels of government and many individuals, businesses and community organisations supported the opening of the new memorial wall and dias just to the south of the cenotaph in Warwick. Member for Maranoa and Federal Minister for Agriculture David Littleproud and Mayor Tracy Dobie combined the opening the Wall and Dias on Sunday the 15th April 2019 following a dedication ceremony.

Friction in their marriage...

If this story doesn't make you cry for laughing so hard, let me know and I'll pray for you. This is a story about a couple who had been happily married for years, the only friction in their marriage was the husband's habit of flatulating loudly every morning when he awoke the noise would wake his wife and the smell would make her eyes water and make her gasp for air.

Every morning she would plead with him to stop ripping them off because it was making her sick. He told her he couldn't stop it and that it was perfectly natural. She told him to see a doctor, she was concerned that one day he would blow his bowels out. The years went by and he continued to rip them out. Then one Christmas day morning, as she was preparing the turkey for dinner and he was upstairs sound asleep, she looked at the innards, neck, gizzard, liver and all the spare parts, and a malicious thought came to her.

She took the bowl and went upstairs where her husband was sound asleep and, gently pulling the bed covers back, she pulled back the elastic waistband of his underpants and emptied the bowl of turkey guts into his shorts. Sometime later she heard her husband waken with his usual trumpeting which was followed by a blood curdling scream and the sound of frantic footsteps as he ran into the bath room. The wife could hardly control herself as she rolled on the floor laughing, tears in her eyes!

After years of torture she reckoned she had got him back pretty good. About twenty minutes later, her husband came downstairs in his blood-stained underpants with a look of horror on his face. She bit her lip as she asked him what the matter was.

He said, "Honey you were right... all these years you have warned me, and I didn't listen to you." "What do you mean?" asked his wife. "Well, you always told me that one day I would end up flatulating my bowels out, and today it finally happened, but by the grace of god, some Vaseline and two fingers. I think I got most of them back....."

Hello?'

'Hi, honey. This is Daddy. Is Mummy near the phone?' 'No Daddy. She's upstairs in the bedroom with Uncle Paul.'

***Brief Pause***

Daddy says, 'But honey, you haven't got an Uncle Paul.' 'Oh yes I do, and he's upstairs in the room with Mummy, right now.'

***Brief Pause.***

'Uh, okay then, this is what I want you to do. Put the phone down on the table, run upstairs and knock on the bedroom door and shout to Mummy that Daddy's car just pulled into the driveway.'

'Okay Daddy, just a minute.' A few minutes later the little girl comes back to the phone. 'I did it Daddy'

And what happened honey?' 'Well, Mummy got all scared, jumped out of bed with no clothes on and ran around screaming. Then she tripped over the rug, hit her head on the dresser and now she isn't moving at all!'

'Oh, my Heavens !!! What about your Uncle Paul?' 'He jumped out of the bed with no clothes on, too.'

He was all scared and he jumped out of the back window and into the swimming pool. But I guess he didn't know that you took out the water last week to clean it. He hit the bottom of the pool and I think he's dead.'

***Long Pause*** ***Longer Pause*** ***Even Longer Pause***

Then Daddy says, 'Swimming pool?? We don't have a swimming pool!! Ah, is this 0486-573.111??'

No, this is 0486-573.113....

RAN gets new Submarine Rescue Service

The Royal Australian Navy will receive a new sovereign air transportable Submarine Rescue Service capability under a contract with Phoenix International (Australia).

Minister for Defence Christopher Pyne said the service would be based in Western Australia and support both the Collins-class submarine force and the Attack-class submarines for the next 25 plus years. "The new system is being designed and built specifically to support the capability requirements of the Navy and will be both air and road transportable, capable of being deployed on a range of vessels

*Collins-class submarines
HMAS Collins, HMAS Farncomb,
HMAS Dechaineux and HMAS Sheean*

"The 2016 Defence White Paper clearly outlines the importance of supporting the new submarines with an upgraded submarine rescue system. "The flexibility this capability will bring means it can be rapidly deployed in support of a distressed submarine anywhere in Australia's area of operation." The acquisition phase of the project is valued at $255 million with Australian-industry content at approximately 80 per cent, creating more than 55 jobs. "I congratulate Phoenix International (Australia) on their lead role in delivering the new submarine rescue system along with a range of small and medium Australian companies supporting the system design, manufacture, testing and in-service operation of the capability,"

The will be accepted into operational service in 2022 and will be one of only four air transportable systems in the world. While the primary mission is to deliver a rescue capability for Australia's submarine fleet, the system will also be capable of supporting other submarine operating nations in distress through the use of the NATO-standard escape hatch.

TAXI

A woman and her 12-year-old son were riding in a taxi near Kings Cross.
It was raining and all the prostitutes were standing under awnings.

"Mum," said the boy, "what are all those women doing?"

"They're waiting for their husbands to get off work," she replied.

The taxi driver turns around and says, "Geez lady, why don't you tell him the truth?
They're hookers, boy! They have sex with men for money."

The little boy's eyes get wide and he says, "Is that true Mum?"
His mother, glaring hard at the driver, answers "Yes."

After a few minutes the kid asks,
"Mum, if those women have babies, what happens to them?"
She said, "Most of them become taxi drivers."

New search for HMAS Vampire missing since 1942

One of the remaining maritime mysteries of World War II may soon be solved, thanks to a joint operation between the Royal Australian Navy and the Sri Lankan Navy.

Nine sailors died when the destroyer HMAS Vampire sank after enduring an intensive Japanese air attack off the Sri Lankan coast. She had been attempting to protect the Royal Navy aircraft carrier HMS Hermes on 9 April 1942.

Commander Australian Fleet Rear Admiral Jonathan Mead said the ship's precise location had never been confirmed but that a new lead had recently emerged.

"This new information was shared during recent high-level Navy-to-Navy talks in Colombo," Rear Admiral Mead said.

"We have always known roughly where the Vampire went down but its exact location has proved elusive.

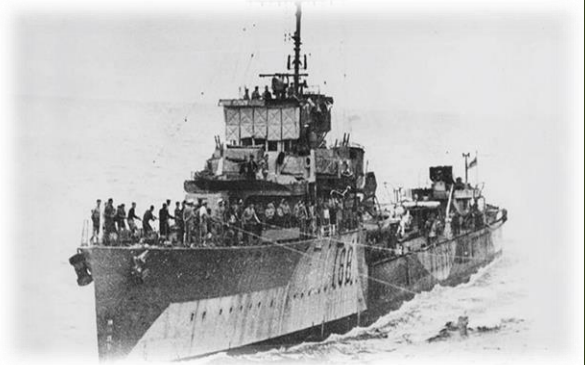

"There are no guarantees of success, but we owe it to the families of those on board to follow up this new lead."

Further research by both Australian and Sri Lankan hydrographers in recent months concluded that there is a strong chance HMAS Vampire's final resting place has been identified.

The Australian hydrographic ship HMAS Leeuwin and mine hunter HMAS Diamantina are in the region to assist with a more thorough search.

"Whatever the outcome, we are most grateful to Sri Lanka for their cooperation and understanding," Rear Admiral Mead said.

"The Vampire story illustrates the enduring ties we have with Sri Lanka and the Indian Ocean region."

Navy Trialing New Camouflage Uniforms

The Royal Australian Navy is currently testing a new camouflaged uniform just 10 years after going to cams instead of grey overalls – and three years after DPNU was scheduled to be replaced

Under evaluation since 2015 and initially scheduled to be issued in late 2017, the new look multi-cam uniform is currently undergoing fleet-wide sea trials.

The trial of the current fabric will end in July, with trials of more fabrics scheduled to follow.

Cut, design and pattern of the prototype Maritime Multi-cam Pattern Uniform (MMPU) is based on the Australian Multi-cam Combat Uniform used by the Australian Army and Air Force.

MMPU, in a unique six-colour palette, will incorporate changes to the fabric, print pattern and uniform design.

Laboratory-tested, MMPU sea-going variant fabric is required to be flame resistant, while being lighter than the Disruptive Pattern Navy Uniform (DPNU) – theoretically allowing it to be more comfortable in warmer climates.

Director Navy Logistics Support Captain Catherine Rhodes said trial participants were assessing the comfort and durability of the new rig.

“We will use the information they give us to eventually produce a maritime uniform that best meets Navy’s requirements,” Captain Rhodes said.

The trial has seen the MMPUs issued to members on a wide range of different Navy platforms, including one major fleet unit, three patrol boats and two submarines.

“There are always going to be issues – that’s what a trial is for,” Captain Rhodes said.

“We need to meet our people’s needs and expectations while ensuring our uniform is fit for purpose.

“It’s a long process to get things right, that’s why the feedback from our trial participants is so important and will be fed into subsequent trial garments over the coming years.”

The manufacture of the MMPU fabric and garments is being carried out in Australia.

The fabric is produced by Bruck Pty Ltd, while the garments are manufactured by Australian Defence Apparel.

Cheerful

An 80-year-old veteran went to the doctor to get a physical.

A few days later, the doctor saw the old veteran walking down the street with a gorgeous young woman on his arm.

A couple of days later, the doctor spoke to the old veteran and said, 'You're really doing great, aren't you?'

With a silly grin on his face, the old veteran replied, 'Just doing what you said, Doc:
'Get a hot mamma and be cheerful.'

The doctor said, 'I didn't say that, I said, 'You've got a heart murmur; be careful.'

Banana Split.

Same old veteran shuffled slowly into an ice cream parlour in Toowoomba recently and pulled himself slowly, painfully, up onto a stool.

After catching his breath and looking over all the menu twice, he ordered a banana split.

The waitress asked kindly, 'Crushed nuts Sir?'

'No Girlie,' he replied, 'Just Arthritis'
